Mastering

Mastering is the final stage in the music production process.

It involves advanced compression, equalisation, limiting, monitoring and AD/DA conversion techniques.

The listening skills of a professional mastering engineer are crucial to the production.

We master at Academy of Sound Studio2 using the very best mastering equipment available in the music industry:

Antelope, Manley, Neumann, Neve, Ozone 7, SSL and more. This equipment is used to process and convert your mix into a professional final master. We edit, polish and compile the tracks in the requested production running order. Our mastering grade Antelope Pure2 convertors ensure your music is mastered and converted at the highest professional audio quality and sounds equally good in every format.
